

Notice In accordance with federal legislation, school districts that received Title I federal funds are required to notify parents of their right to request information regarding the professional qualifications for their child's teacher including degrees and certifications held and whether the teacher is certified in the area he/she is teaching. If you wish for more information regarding your child's educators, "qualifications please contact Human Resource Director Lisa Patterson at 759 3771.

How Can I Get Involved?

- Keep in contact with your child's teacher through telephone, conversations, or email
- Participate in school-based events that are intended for attendance of all families (e.g., open houses, concerts, curriculum meetings...)
- Serve as a role model, showing your child that you support his/her progress in school
- Keep your child's teacher informed about events in your child's life that may affect his/her performance in school
- Support your child's extra-curricular activities
- Discuss ideas for parent involvement with your child's teacher and parent organization

NADINE JOHNSON ELEMENTARY TITLE 1 INFORMATION 2017

Objective

The program objectives are designed to reinforce and supplement the classroom reading activities. These objectives include . . .

- Encourage a Love of Reading. Introduce students to highly motivating activities and books to stimulate a desire to read. !
- Phonics. Learn the sounds of consonants and vowels and blend these sounds together to read words.
- Vocabulary. Recognize high frequency words quickly and apply a variety of word learning strategies to determine the meaning of new words.
- Fluency. Read text accurately with appropriate rate, phrasing, and expression.
- Comprehension Skills. Learn a variety of strategies to help students process fiction and non-fiction text and construct meaning.
- Study Skills. Help students apply general reading skills to all other content areas – such as math, science and social studies

Dear Parent(s):

You are your child's first and most important teacher. Every day your child is learning from you. The early experiences play a vital role toward future success in school. A child who comes from a home where books are read, enjoyed, and shared usually develops a strong desire to read. Many teachers have observed that their most successful readers come from homes where parents read to their children. Each of us wants our children to have successful school experiences. Children begin school with the values, attitudes, and skills that have been taught at home. Parents can instill positive feelings about school and promote a desire to learn. If a child has difficulty in school he/she sometimes develops a negative attitude and a poor self concept. Parents and teachers need to work together to help children achieve success.

MATERIALS AND ACTIVITIES

The goal of the Title 1 resources is to develop positive attitudes toward reading and math so that each student experiences success every day. A variety of high interest materials are provided to spark the students' interests and strengthen reading and math skills. Materials used at NJE with Title 1 funds, are designed to provide effective academic intervention and support classroom activities.

WHAT IS IT? Title 1

Is the nation's largest federally funded education program. Since 1965 more than ninety percent of the school districts in the nation have used Title 1 funds to provide extra help for millions of students. The Hutto ISD currently has 6 elementary campuses that receive Title 1 funds. Federal guidelines determine the distribution of funds to schools.
